BARNEGAT BAY

Once in a dream I was flying real low
Pushing to see just how far I would go
Well I broke my arm on the top of a tree
And shattered to pieces by the edge of the sea
The tide came in and swept me away
And now here I lie in Barnegat Bay

And I don't care if the sky turns gray
And I don't care if you sail away
And I don't care what people might say
I'm lyin' here in Barnegat Bay

I've followed a river, I've followed a stream
But most of my life I've followed a dream
A hopeless romantic in a logical land
Now that I'm gone I hope you understand
I waited for answers, you had nothing to say
And now here I lie in Barnegat Bay

And I don't care if the sky turns gray
And I don't care if you sail away
And I don't care what people might say
I'm lyin' here in Barnegat Bay

Once in a dream I was flying real low
Pushing to see just how far I would go
Well I broke my arm on the top of a tree
And shattered to pieces by the edge of the sea
The tide came in and swept me away
And now here I lie in Barnegat Bay
